

How do you ensure that you are marking consistently between your own assignments/tests to grade? Is there a different strategy for written and coding assignments?

How do you work effectively with multiple TA's? How do you divide the work and make sure the grading is consistent and fair?

What are some time-saving strategies? How do these differ for marking written and coding assignments? Be sure to consider how to give the most amount of feedback possible to each student efficiently.

What are some strategies for handling student complaints? What could you do to help avoid complaints in the first place?